

How to take care of your permanent jewelry

There are many perks to wearing permanent jewelry rather than regular, but it is always important to take care and clean your jewelry even if you cannot take it off. Although it may seem difficult, there are still many solutions to help you maintain your permanent jewelry and make it last a lifetime! Here are a few tips on how you can clean your permanent jewelry for best results!

1. Treated Polishing Cloth

One of the most simple and easy ways to clean your new permanent bracelet or anklet is by using a treated polishing cloth (usually meant for jewelry) and gently rub and wipe down the entire piece. You will instantly start to see smudges and dirt come onto the cloth, resulting in a clean and shiny piece! It is recommended that you clean your bracelet/anklet 2-3 times week or more frequently if you are active or outdoors a lot.

2. Jewelry Cleaning Pen

You can find these pens online. With brands such as MINE, REEDS or BERRICLE, all pens are around the $20 price range! First, place a cloth under the bracelet/anklet to protect your skin from the solution of the pen. Then, gently brush the cleaning solution with your pen and give it 20-30 seconds. Then, simply wash it off with water and you'll be left with a clean and sparkly bracelet/anklet just like new!

3. Jewelry Cleaning Solution

Another way you could clean your permanent jewelry is by using any regular jewelry cleaning solution. Make sure you first put on a rubber glove and carefully slide your bracelet over the the glove. Then, use any small household brush (preferably a toothbrush) and dip it into the solution and gently scrub your bracelet. Then, rinse off with water and you are good to go!
